

MECX, LP is a technology-based, challenge-driven, performance focused, team of innovative solution providers. We are a certified serviced disabled veteran owned small business. We have developed engineered methods to safely and effectively apply chemical oxidants.

Visit www.mecx.net

Doug Carvel is a registered professional engineer with over 30 years experience in the environmental remediation field. He specializes in the design and implementation of soil and groundwater remediation projects utilizing innovative technologies, such as in-situ chemical oxidation with activated sodium persulfate. He also serves as the technical director for remediation services within MECX, in which role he is responsible for evaluating/implementing new and emerging remedial technologies for the remediation of hazardous waste sites across the country.

Contact Doug at doug.carvel@mecx.net.